DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
3. Claims 20-21, 25-26, 29-36, 38 and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dix (US 6677854) in view of Lang (US 6295492).

As per claims 20-21, 25-26 and 29-36 and 38, the reason for the rejection based upon the combined teachings of Dix and Lang et al as set forth in the last office action is maintained and incorporated herein by reference.

As per claim 40, as disclosed on column 2, lines 3-5 of the Dix reference, the sensor is being used to periodically monitor the associated vehicular apparatus for failure (or error code). Further, it would have been readily apparent for one skilled in the art that the display in item 82, figure 3 of the Dix reference obviously can be employed to indicate the result of sensing such as no failure (or error code) is being detected by the sensor as claimed.

Art Unit: 3661

4. Claims 22-23 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dix in view of Lang et al and further in view of Horst et al (submitted by applicants).

As per claims 22-23 and 39, the reason for the rejection based upon the combined teachings of Dix, Lang et al and Horst et al as set forth in the last office action is also maintained and incorporated herein by reference.

5. In the amendment, applicants essentially alleged that the feature of “the at least one sensor interrogates the at least one apparatus for the at least one error code in response to receipt of a request from the processor, the request being made by the processor in response to a user input” as now amended in the independent claims 20 and 33 has not been taught in the Dix reference. Applicants’ attention is directed to column 10, lines 48-52 of the Dix reference in which it discloses that data indicating the particular operational requests made by the operator is being monitored by the controller. It would have been readily apparent for one skilled in the art that such “operational requests” obviously include the data sensed by the sensor such as “engine temperature and coolant temperature” as disclosed on column 10, lines 7-11 of the Dix reference since these data are related to the operational aspect of the vehicle. Further, since the activation of the sensor is controlled by the processor in the controller in response to the operator or user request, hence, the sensor is in response to receipt of a request from the processor which in turn is in response to a user request or input as required.

Art Unit: 3661

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
